He Hid Away as "Reed."

Mrs. Buchanan, the doctor and the little girl, Gertrude, hid away in Mrs. Ruddy's home under the name of Reed, skulking in and out of saloons near by.

Augustin Rea, a gray-haired old colored man, living at 230 West One Hundred and Forty-sixth street, came next. He testified that in May, 1822, he was engaged by Dr. Ruchanan to go to the house of Harry Warren, 298 West Nineteenth street, and get a valise, which he carried up to Henry Deutsch's saloon. Houlevard and Sixty-seventh street, and thence to the house of Mrs. Ruddy, 161 Boulevard, where he delivered the handbag to a woman with a rosy face and red hair, turning gray. Rea, later on, got little Gertrude's baby carriage from Macomber's restaurant and took it to Mrs. Ruddy's.

"Did you ever see either of these men on any of those visits?" asked Mr. Wellman, waving his hand towards Buchanan's lawyers.

Annie Florence Warren, a young woman with a pullid face and in a tallor-made gown of the same complexion, came next. She is the wife of Henry Warren, the Nova Scotian friend of Dr. Buchanan's boyhood. Mrs. Warren related how Dr. Buchanan came to her house in May, 1892, and arranged with her husband to go to his Eleventh street house and set his value.

The witness told of various conversations, in which Dr. Buchanan said that his wife had left her fortune to him and 10,000 to little Gertrude.
